

GLOBAL MARKETING

END-TERM

ASTHA | ROSHANI | SHAHAZAD

MANGO

- Founded in 1984 in Barcelona by Isak Andic
- Operates in 120+ markets with nearly 2,850 stores
- Core product line - Womens wear
- Product lines: Woman, Man, Kids, Teen, Home
- Entered India in 2001 , Delhi
- 2014: Myntra became online partner , 2017 Myntra bought franchisee rights
- India is now Mango's largest market in APAC
- 2018 - 10 stores , by 2024 - 110+ stores
- Largest store: 10,000 sq. ft. flagship in Santacruz West, Mumbai

INDIA

MARKETING MIX

PRODUCT

- Wide product portfolio: Woman, Man, Kids, Teenagers
- Woman line is the core category
- Product range includes dresses, tops, jeans, outerwear, knitwear, swimwear, bags, shoes.
- Teen collections renewed every two weeks and supported by #MangoTribe influencer group.
- Sustainability integrated into product development through TextileGenesis.traceability, mapping 6,000+ tonnes of fibres and 40 million finished products.

PRICE

- Mid-premium pricing positioned above fast fashion but below luxury brands.
- ASP (MEN JACKET) ₹11,028.12.
- Online sales for Mango on Myntra grew by 50% in 2023, showing strong price acceptance.
- Premium collections (like Capsule) priced higher due to craftsmanship and elevated materials.
- Seasonal discounts, promotional events, and online sales used to drive traffic and clear stock.
- Market-specific pricing adjustments based on competition and purchasing power.

MARKETING MIX

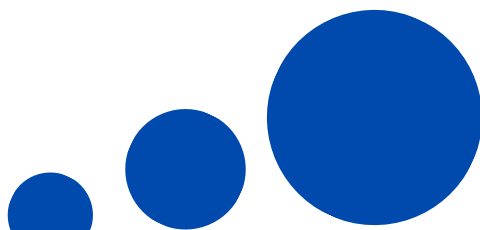

PLACE

- Global omnichannel distribution across 120+ markets and ~2,850 stores.
- Mix of company-owned stores, franchises.
- India operates under Myntra's master franchise model for offline and online expansion.
- India store count grew: 10 to 120+ stores.
- Mango Man and Kids rolling out in both metro and non-metro cities.
- Mango Man opened first standalone stores in Delhi.
- Strong digital coverage with 32% of global sales coming from online channels.
- High-traffic mall locations and premium high street placements to maximize visibility.

PROMOTION

- Integrated promotion combining global celebrity faces and local influencers.
- Global ambassadors include Kaia Gerber (Woman) and Casper Ruud (Man).
- Key brand message: "Craft Your Own Story," focusing on individuality and personal style.
- India-specific influencer campaign: "From Barcelona with Love" featuring Juhi Godambe, Shiv Shakti and Vagmita Singh.
- Seasonal campaigns, digital films, fashion editorials, and social media storytelling.
- Active on Instagram, YouTube, Facebook and Myntra-led digital promotions.

Forever 21

Forever21 is a global fast-fashion retailer known for offering trendy, affordable apparel and accessories for teens and young adults, combining rapid trend responsiveness with a mass-market appeal.

- Founded in 1984 in Los Angeles by Do Won Chang & Jin Sook Chang.
- First store: 900 sq. ft., originally "Fashion 21," targeting local Korean-American community.
- Rebranded as Forever21 — youth-oriented, trendy, affordable fashion.
- Product lines: Women, Men, Kids, Accessories.
- 2005 – Acquisition of teen-fashion chain Gadzooks.
- 2010 – Entry into India.
- 2016 – Indian operations franchised to ABFRL.
- 2020 – Intellectual property acquired by Authentic Brands Group.
- 2025 – Second U.S. bankruptcy; closure of stores; India operations affected.

FOREVER 21

Marketing Mix

Price

- Value-based, affordable pricing for teens & young adults.
- India-specific pricing: Accessible for basics, slightly higher for seasonal/partywear.
- Use of psychological pricing (₹799, $19.99).
- Seasonal sales & bundle offers to maintain fast-fashion positioning.

Place

- Large-format stores, e-commerce, franchise/licensing, international shipping.
- India: ABFRL-managed stores in tier-1 & tier-2 cities; e-commerce on Myntra, Ajio, Amazon.
- Omnichannel strategy to cover cities without physical stores.

Product

- Fast-fashion model: Trend-responsive, affordable, mass-market appeal.
- High assortment, high turnover; basics + trend-driven items.
- Localisation in India: Festival wear, summer capsules for Gen Z.
- Global collaborations: Pop-culture, influencer-led capsule collections.

Promotion

- Youth-focused branding & visual storytelling in stores.
- Celebrity events, Experiential events.
- Social media: Instagram, TikTok, YouTube Shorts, Pinterest; influencer collaborations.
- Discounts, end-of-season sales, online-only offers.

COMPARATIVE MARKETING MIX – MANGO VS FOREVER 21 (INDIA MARKET)

7Ps	MANGO (Active in India)	FOREVER 21 (Exited India)
Product	Contemporary, premium-looking apparel; Women + Men + Kids + Teen + Home décor; Mediterranean aesthetic; limited India-centric capsule collaborations; sustainability integrated	Trend-heavy, ultra-fast fashion for teens/young adults; broad SKU volume; runway/street-style inspired collections; high inventory churn; product localisation done only seasonally; not positioned on sustainability.
Price	Mid-range pricing – aspirational yet affordable; minimal discounting; pricing managed by Myntra ensuring consistency across India; premium capsule priced higher.	Value/low pricing strategy for youth; frequent discounting/markdowns; psychological pricing; aggressive sale participation to clear inventory.
Place (Distribution)	Master franchise with Myntra; 110+ exclusive stores; flagship 10,000 sq ft Mumbai outlet; strong omnichannel retail & online delivery across 28,000+ pin codes.	Managed by ABFRL; large mall-format stores across metros; presence on Myntra, Ajo, Amazon; wide digital delivery network. However, high rental & store dependency caused high operational burden.
Promotion	Global celebrity partnerships (Kaia Gerber, Casper Ruud) + Indian influencer collaborations; digital storytelling; Myntra promotional push; sustainability communication.	In-store VM, youth-centric social media, festival campaigns, celebrity store launches (e.g., Kareena Kapoor), major discount events & carnivals.

KEY INSIGHTS FROM THE COMPARISON

Factor	Brand Better Positioned in India	Reason
Product differentiation	Mango	Premium-contemporary identity vs Forever 21 trend-churn
Stability & sustainability	Mango	Sustainability + traceability vs disposable fast fashion
Pricing efficiency	Tie	Mango aspirational value; F21 affordability
Retail operations	Mango	Store size diversification + omnichannel
Adaptation to Indian market	Mango	India-specific capsule drops & menswear push
Relevance among Gen Z	Forever 21 (historically)	Youth-focused microtrends & pop-culture merch
Long-term resilience	Mango	Less discount dependency + healthier supply chain

RECOMMENDATIONS TO INCREASE MARKET SHARE IN INDIA

Mango

Goal: Expand reach beyond metros + strengthen Gen Z segment

Product

Launch recurring Gen Z micro-trend capsules (Y2K, Korean chic, festivalwear). Expand Mango Home more aggressively.

Price

Introduce “Mango Basics” under ₹999 for students & early earners.

Place

Expansion into Tier-2 & Tier-3 cities via smaller stores / shop-in-shops; boost accessories-only kiosks.

Promotion

Hyperlocal influencer campaigns (not just national creators); campus ambassador program.

Sustainability storytelling

Use in-store digital screens to show fibre traceability journey & carbon savings — build loyalty and justification for price.

Capture the young fashion segment that Forever 21 has vacated by winning Gen Z loyalty without abandoning its premium identity

Forever 21

Goal: Fix structural flaws + become sustainable and digital-first oversized store formats → high costs

Move to medium/small format stores & high-street locations

over-dependence on brick-and-mortar

Go online-first (Myntra/Ajio + own app + social commerce)

trend saturation + disposable fashion

Focus on quality-centric fast fashion, durability & recycled fabrics

discount addiction

Reduce markdowns; introduce loyalty reward pricing instead lack of India-centric identity

Launch capsule lines inspired by Bollywood glam / wedding-party / Indo-western streetwear dependency on global supply chain

Local production & subcontracting in India (surat, ludhiana, tiruppur)

weak differentiation

Position as affordable global Gen-Z fashion, not just cheap fashion

If Forever 21 re-enters with the Shein-style app-first + campus influencer + microtrend capsule drop model while embedding sustainability, it will regain youth appeal.

Thank
You ●

